

Eastern Birmingham NHS
Primary Care Trust

Engaging with our local population

Interaction between staff and older people from the Erdington area at an event in March 2003 was designed specifically to find out their priorities for improving health and well-being and to pinpoint significant gaps in local services.

Feedback from this initiative has proved very helpful in planning the future development of services to help this vulnerable section of the population.